About the Presenters:

Trevor Collett has over 35 years of experience in the management and maintenance of UK highway networks, for 15 years working directly for a London borough and now 22 years with the private sector, all with a Tier 1 service provider. He is currently working for Highways England, in Area 3, where he has particular responsibility for asset data. Trevor is a full member of the Institute of Asset Management and has been a registered assessor of PAS 55/ISO 55000.

Sam Beamish was formerly a Technical Director in Kier's highways business and now works for Highways England. He has more than 30 years' experience in the management, repair and maintenance of structures and in the development of asset management strategies and whole life solutions.
