Synopsis

The Rapid Transit System Link (RTS Link) Project is intended to provide a railway shuttle link between Johor Bahru, Malaysia and Woodlands, Singapore. When completed, the link will provide a convenient and efficient cross-border mode of transportation between Malaysia and Singapore.

The objective of this technical cum study visit is to focus on the various aspects of the dream project of people of the two neighbouring countries, Malaysia and Singapore. The visit will expose our engineers to the Facts & Figures of the engineering specifications and the project deliverables, and we will be updated on the greatly desired additional Malaysia–Singapore connectivity.

We will certainly be delighted to learn the potential benefits of the RTS Link during the project briefing session and the subsequent guided site visit.
