

2026 Cymru Wales Awards

Alun Griffiths Health, Safety & Wellbeing Award 2026

This Award recognises projects and policy initiatives or strategies that have significantly contributed to casualty reduction and improved safety for all transport users, including pedestrians, and/or transport workers. Its aim is to identify, share and celebrate good practice.

The award is also an opportunity to demonstrate good industry practice, novel or innovative responses to safety critical operations whether it is policy or practice or through design/construction. The award recognises the impact of all three elements of health, safety and wellbeing as providing improvements and enhancements to the lives of the public and workers.

The award welcomes both technical and educational/training/publicity projects, which can demonstrate the quantifiable effects of the project either through measurement, monitoring or description. Road safety initiatives, schemes or products that contribute to casualty reduction are welcomed for this award, particularly where they provide outputs that can be widely applied.

How to enter

To enter this award please complete your entry online and provide submission, project photographs and any supporting documents on your entered project.

Please ensure that you have read the Important Submission Information before submitting your entry. The deadline for entries is 1700hrs on Thursday 10th September 2026.

Shortlisted entries will be notified in October. Winners will be announced at the CIHT Cymru Wales Awards Dinner at the Kinmel Hotel in Abergele on the evening of Friday 27th November 2026 and details published through a variety of media platforms.

The winner of this category will also be considered for the Project of the Year Award.